

Northwest Leadership Foundation - Urban Leaders in Training Program

Urban Leaders in Training (ULT) identifies and develops teams of diverse emerging leaders to serve marginalized individuals and communities throughout the city of Tacoma. Through intensive leadership development training and service opportunities that meet critical needs to underserved groups, participants are developed into urban leaders ready to meet the demands of an ever changing, global community.

Our 10.5 month full-time AmeriCorps program offers placement in service positions with local faith-based/community-based organizations, churches and programs working directly alongside vulnerable populations and those who have been marginalized throughout the City. Throughout the service experience, Urban Leaders address critical issues such as youth development, education, urban development, the arts and the environment.
