Judges are trained mediators who have extensive knowledge of workers' compensation and other areas of the law, as well as in the practices and procedures of the Board. The New Appeals Section handles all aspects of the initial receipt and processing of new appeals received by the agency. Determinations are made whether to grant or deny appeals. Jurisdictional problems are identified and a jurisdictional history of the claim is developed. This history is used in mediation and hearings to establish the legal authority of the agency to hear the appeal. The section works closely with the Department of Labor and Industries (L&I) in assessing whether documents are protests, which are handled by L&I, or formal appeals. Review

If a party disagrees with the proposed decision issued by a hearing judge, the party can petition the three-member board to review the decision. In the review program, judges assist board members in determining the appropriate action to take on petitions. Judges review the petition and the entire record of proceedings, then make recommendations to the board. If the board votes to review a proposed decision, the review judge will draft the final decision and order for the board members' approval. (Accident Account, Medical Aid Account)
