

Improve the Health of Washingtonians

Indicator 4: State Health Rating

Measure a: United Health Foundation's America's Health Rankings

Description:

This indicator represents Washington state's ranking among all states on a composite index that blends determinants of health - personal behaviors, community environment, public & health policies, and clinical care- with health outcomes. Each state receives a score that is equal to the percentage the state is above or below the national norm, and these scores are then ranked.
