Compliance

- What is it?
- Why is it important?
- What is the basis of compliance?
What Is Compliance?

Compliance - Following specific requirements for activities allowed or unallowed in federal programs as defined in law, regulations, the provisions of award agreements and administrative guidelines. Requirements are found in:

- Federal Circulars (e.g., Compliance Supplement and Uniform Administrative Requirements)
- State Administrative & Accounting Manual (SAAM)
- Federal Agency CFR’s
Why Is Compliance Important?

- Auditors are required to check for and comment on
- Federal awarding agencies are mandated to require and monitor
- Pass-Through entities are mandated to require and monitor
What Is The Basis Of Compliance?

Auditors have historically had a document they could consult on compliance requirements

Compliance Supplement

The current document is Appendix B to Circular A-133 and is updated annually.

OMB has expanded the purpose of the Supplement to provide compliance information to multiple users - auditors and administrators of federal assistance, both program and financial.
Compliance Requirements with Audit Findings

- Allowable Costs/Cost Principles
- Activities Allowed or Unallowed
- Subrecipient Monitoring
- Special Tests and Provisions
- Eligibility
- Cash Management
- Reporting
- Suspension and Debarment
- Period of Availability
- Davis Bacon
Activities allowed/Cost Principles

- Costs of salaries charged to awards for multiple activities were based on estimates and were not adjusted to actual time.
- Costs were charged to the grant that were not supported in accordance with federal requirements.
- Employee time certifications were missing for some employees.
- Lack of internal controls over reconciling payments to source documentation.
Monitoring Federal Grants

Definition: Taking those steps necessary to ensure that:

- Funds allocated for a grant project are being spent according to the grant agreement and other applicable regulations
- Grant program objectives are being met on a timely schedule
- All reports and reporting forms are being completed and distributed on time

- Definition (continued)
  - Reviews, on-site visits and audits are completed as appropriate and any findings or necessary corrections are resolved in a timely manner
  - Issues that surface, particularly those of a material nature are dealt with in an expedient manner
Monitoring Federal Grants

- Monitoring takes place at several levels
  - Federal
    » Federal Cognizant Agency
    » Federal Awarding Agency
  - State (Grantee)
    » Self monitoring
    » Subrecipient monitoring
      » Required by Uniform Administrative Guidelines
      » Required by Single Audit Act & OMB Circular A-133

What Is Subrecipient Monitoring?

Subrecipient Monitoring is the responsibility of a federal assistance supported, nonfederal, pass-through entity to monitor their subrecipient’s activities so as to provide reasonable assurance that the subrecipient is administering federal awards in compliance with applicable laws, regulations, requirements, and contract provisions and that program objectives are being accomplished.
Pass-Through Entity Responsibilities

- Identify federal awards made (including CFDA number)
- Advise subrecipients of federal award requirements
- Monitor subrecipient activities, as necessary, to ensure compliance and performance
- Ensure that subrecipients meet Circular A-133 requirements when required to do so
- Issue management decisions on relevant subrecipient audit findings
- Adjust agency records when affected by subrecipient audits
- Require records access by subrecipients
Recipient/Subrecipient vs Vendor

- Distinction has compliance ramifications
- Making the distinction can be difficult at times
- Refer to Circular A-133 and SAAM 50.30.60 for distinguishing characteristics.
- Additional criteria has been included in SAAM 50.30.60
- Vendor criteria must be applied both directions
  - Are you providing vendor service to a federal agy?
  - Are you subcontracting for vendor service?
Subrecipient Monitoring?

- Subrecipients are required to register in the CCR database before bidding on a contract funded by the Recovery Act (New for FY10)
- Provide to subrecipients all identifying information and compliance requirements applicable to the grant.
- Provide on-site review of subrecipient client files and agency records.
- Reimburse subrecipients actual costs by reviewing supporting documentation for expenditures incurred
- Ensure subrecipients receive an audit in accordance with federal regulations and also ensure funds are reported on the SEFA.
Suspension and Debarment

Policy:

Nonfederal entities are prohibited from contracting with or making subawards under covered transactions to parties that are suspended or debarred or whose principals are suspended or debarred. Covered transactions include procurement contracts for goods or services equal to or in excess of $25,000 and all nonprocurement transactions (e.g., subawards to subrecipients).
Suspension and Debarment

Required Action:

- When you enter into a covered transaction with another party you must verify that the party is not excluded or disqualified by doing one of the following:
- Check the Excluded Parties List System – be sure to print our your search results.
- Collect a certification from that party if allowed
- Add a clause or condition to the covered transaction with that party
Suspension and Debarment

- Include updated suspended and debarment language in all grants, contracts, and agreements.
- Keep printed documentation of checking for suspended and debarred vendors on the EPLS website.
- Make sure that staff assigned responsibility for compliance with this requirement are properly trained.
Other compliance requirements with findings

- Provider eligibility requirements were not being met
- Did not comply with Davis-Bacon (prevailing wage) requirements
- The program was charged for activities that occurred after the grant period had ended.
CMIA
Cash Management Improvement Act of 1990

- Original law and Amendments
  - Cash Management Improvement Act of 1990
  - 1992 Amendments

- Department of Treasury Rule
  Rules and Procedures for Fund Transfers; Final Rule
  31 CFR Part 205

- CMIA was passed to improve the transfer of federal funds between the federal government and states, territories and the District of Columbia
Key Components of CMIA

- Treasury - State Agreements
  - Based on State’s fiscal year
  - Is extended annually
  - Current amendment is effective (7/1/2012-6/30/2013)
  - Submitted by June 30 of each year

- Annual Reports (must be submitted by December 31 of each year)

- Annual Interest Exchange (accomplished no later than March 31 of each year)
List the federal assistance programs included by CFDA Number. Inclusion based on dollar threshold per annual expenditures reported on Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards.

- SEFA expenditures for FY 2011 were 18.3 billion
- Washington’s current threshold is $30 million dollars
- Programs that normally would not be included in an agreement can be inserted for various reasons at the request of either party to the agreement

» 31 CFR 205.22 & 23
What are CMIA’s Objectives?

- Efficiency - To minimize the time between the transfer of funds to the States and the payout for program purposes
- Effectiveness - To ensure that Federal funds are available when requested
- Equity - To assess an interest liability to the Federal Government and/or the States to compensate for the lost value of funds
Federal Single Audit Requirements

- Has been applicable to all state agencies since 1985
- 1996 amendments to Single Audit Act changed and added responsibilities
- Circular A-133 implemented the amendments
- Submission to the clearinghouse has changed to a totally electronic process
Federal Single Audit Requirements

- Purposes
  - Has not reduced burden on state & local governments
    - Federal agencies relying less

- Major provisions

- What are the major documents
  - Data Collection Form
  - Reporting Package
    » Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards
Federal Single Audit Requirements

- OMB Circular A-133
  - Covers “non-federal entities”
  - Covers the fiscal year of the entity
  - Covers “federal awards”
  - Triggered by designated threshold of annual expenditures of federal awards (currently $500,000 from all sources)
  - Single audit versus program specific audit
  - Relationship to other requirements
  - Allowable audit costs
The wrong amount was entered on the Non-Financial Assistance disclosure form

Program expenditures were reported under the incorrect CFDA number

Program expenditures were not reported on the SEFA

Program expenditures were incorrectly reported under Research and Development
Proposed Federal Grant Changes

- OMB is proposing changes to the cost principle and administrative circulars and of single audit requirements.
- Federal grant recipients are being given the opportunity to comment on the proposed changes.
- The first big change in over 20 years.
