

AmeriCorps Financial Empowerment Services

AmeriCorps Financial Empowerment Services (AFES) is a National Direct AmeriCorps program located in six cities across the United States. AFES helps low income individuals and families achieve financial stability. Our team members create real change in people's lives by providing high quality financial education and counseling, educating people about available income-boosting tax credits and teaching people who receive social security disability about available work incentives and programs to help them build assets.
