

Clallam AmeriCorps Recovery Team

The Clallam AmeriCorps Recovery Team is a collaborative project in Clallam and Jefferson counties that seeks to infuse community action and school programming with human resources to maintain current levels of support.

Community Action programming through OlyCAP will weatherize low-income housing, provide housing assistance and referrals, and provide free community education classes in financial literacy and career development.

School-based programming will consist of academic support and one-to-one mentoring serving students considered at risk of academic failure and drop out. Members will work with students in both classroom and after school environments.
