

King County Housing Authority
(A Partner of the Washington Service Corps)

---

AmeriCorps members will focus on healthy living choices and environmental stewardship education serving children, youth and families from diverse communities in the poorest areas of King County including White Center, Kent, SeaTac, Shoreline and Kirkland. In partnership with community-based service providers in these communities, members will serve in a variety of programs and activities (members will serve with after school programs, with family support programs and food banks) which will enable community members to gain the knowledge and skills necessary to make healthy living choices and to gain an understanding of the impact their choices have on their home communities and the broader global community.
