

King County Housing Authority (A Partner of the Washington Service Corps)

AmeriCorps members will focus on recycling and environmental stewardship education serving in communities in the poorest areas of King County including White Center, Kent, SeaTac, Lake City, Shoreline and Kirkland. In partnership with community-based service providers in these communities, members will serve with after school programs, with family support programs and will seek to increase the capacity of food banks. Members will serve with youth and families from diverse communities to increase awareness of the importance of environmental stewardship and recycling in their home communities and the broader global community.
