

King County Housing Authority (A Partner of the Washington Service Corps)

AmeriCorps members will address the issues of hunger and nutrition education by serving in the poorest areas of King County including White Center, Kent, Auburn and Shoreline. In partnership with food banks, a nutrition education program and community-based service providers in these communities, members will seek to increase the capacity of food banks, work with youth leadership development programs, volunteer coordinators, and youth mentors. Members will also work with the WSU Master Gardener program to develop community gardens in partnership with community-based agencies supervising after school activities at King County Housing Authority sites.
