RE: COMPILATION OF WASHINGTON ASSAULT STATUTES

Unfortunately, because there were several alternative ways to commit a crime within each individual crime, I was unable to visually display the mens rea components separate from their individual crime within the time I had.

Additionally, not reflected in the mens rea component of the crime, are the additional elements of age of the victim in the Assault of a Child crimes, (e.g. if the child is under the age of thirteen.) Therefore, the following is a compilation of several Washington assault statutes, in their entirety, to further the discussion of potentially amending the mens rea of Assault of a child in the first degree.

RCW 9A.36.120
Assault of a child in the first degree.

(1) A person eighteen years of age or older is guilty of the crime of assault of a child in the first degree if the child is under the age of thirteen and the person:

   (a) Commits the crime of assault in the first degree, as defined in RCW 9A.36.011, against the child; or

   (b) Intentionally assaults the child and either:

      (i) Recklessly inflicts great bodily harm; or

      (ii) Causes substantial bodily harm, and the person has previously engaged in a pattern or practice either of (A) assaulting the child which has resulted in bodily harm that is greater than transient physical pain or minor temporary marks, or (B) causing the child physical pain or agony that is equivalent to that produced by torture.

(2) Assault of a child in the first degree is a class A felony.
RCW 9A.36.130
Assault of a child in the second degree.

(1) A person eighteen years of age or older is guilty of the crime of assault of a child in the second degree if the child is under the age of thirteen and the person:

(a) Commits the crime of assault in the second degree, as defined in RCW 9A.36.021, against a child; or

(b) Intentionally assaults the child and causes bodily harm that is greater than transient physical pain or minor temporary marks, and the person has previously engaged in a pattern or practice either of (i) assaulting the child which has resulted in bodily harm that is greater than transient pain or minor temporary marks, or (ii) causing the child physical pain or agony that is equivalent to that produced by torture.
