

building a

MODERN

work environment

SPACE TYPE EXAMPLES

Good design allows people to easily find the type of space they need for their preferred work style. Choice and variety empower employees and has a direct impact on productivity and job satisfaction. The following slides are examples of the space types being implemented in different areas of state government. Product shown in the photos are available from Correction Industries (CI) except those with a *.

Workspaces

“me” spaces may be assigned, unassigned or shared

Resident user workstation

Resident is a user who typically spends more than 50 percent of their time at the same workspace in the facility.

Resident user workstation

Washington State Department of Transportation

Internally mobile user workstation

Employment Security Department

Internally mobile is a user who typically spends more than 50 percent of their time in the facility with as much or more time spent away from their workspace than at it.

Internally mobile user workstation

Office of Financial Management

Externally mobile user workstation

MOD WA

Externally mobile is a user who spends at least 50 percent of their time outside the facility working in the field, from home or from other external locations.

Externally mobile users workspace

MOD WA

Externally mobile users workspace

Remote users workspace

Department of Social and Health Services

Remote user is a user who is occasionally (one to four days per month) in the facility.

Remote users workspace

MOD WA

Remote users workspace

Washington State Department of Transportation

Focus space

“we” spaces support confidential and focus tasks

Focus room

MOD WA*

Focus rooms are enclosed spaces with limited visual and/or acoustical distractions for one to four users.

Focus room

Health Care Authority *

Focus point

Department of Licensing*

Focus point is a nonreservable, semi-enclosed space with limited visual and acoustical distractions for a single user

Meeting space

“we” or shared spaces provide informal and formal meeting and training areas

Collaboration spaces

Department of Health

Collaboration space is a nonreservable space that is open or semi-enclosed for informal meetings.

Collaboration spaces

MOD WA

Collaboration spaces

Meeting rooms

MOD WA

Meeting rooms

Employment Security Department

Meeting rooms

Department of Health