The IRS has a concept of constructive receipt for when a taxpayer has payments available as income. For WA State payments, constructive receipt changes depending on payment method. For Warrants, the receipt date is the warrant date. For Electronic Fund Transfers (EFT) it is deposit date, which is 2 business days from release day. To avoid these issues, do not make 1099 reportable payments on the last two business days of the year.

For example, activities to be added back to Calendar Reporting Year 2019
Day 1 (Friday, December 28, 2018) – release batch
Day 2 (Monday, December 31, 2018) – warrant/EFT process date
Day 3 (Wednesday, January 2, 2019) – EFT deposit date (This EFT belongs to the 2019 calendar reporting year!)

For example, activities to be taken out of current Calendar Reporting Year 2019
Day 1 (Monday, December 30, 2019) – release batch
Day 2 (Tuesday, December 31, 2019) – warrant/EFT process date
Day 3 (Thursday, January 2, 2020) – EFT deposit date (This EFT belongs to the next calendar reporting year (2020)!)
