Use the questions below to help brainstorm census solutions you might support.

- How might I help create awareness campaigns to minimize the undercount?
- How might I educate co-workers about the importance of the count, so this can be communicated to clients?
- How might I help communicate the importance of the census to underserved communities in low-income areas?
- How might my organization serve as a community hub for census education and awareness?
- How might my organization provide technology assistance for hard-to-count populations?
- Other ways I might support a complete count?
